

Greenwich Palace was one of the most important palaces in England. King Henry the third (Queen Elizabeth the first's father) was born in this palace and it was in the same palace that Queen Elizabeth the first was born in the September of 1533. In 1536, Anne Boleyn (who was Queen Elizabeth the first's mother), was arrested at Greenwich Palace on charges of adultery, and was taken to The Tower of London. This is maybe why this palace was not her favorite.

---

Queen Elizabeth the first never got married because some people think that she chose not to marry to protect England's security and people; she wanted to remain independent of any foreign influence which marrying a foreign prince/king would have brought. A myth was told that Elizabeth had many friends that were men like Robert Dudley, Walter Raleigh, Francis Drake, and Robert Devereux, and more.

During Mary's reign, Elizabeth was put in prison for nearly a year on suspension of her supporting Protestant rebels. The first action she took when she became queen was the establishment of an English Protestant church, of which she became supreme governor. This Elizabethan Religious Settlement was to develop into the Church of England. She also believed in tolerating the views of others, and sincerely believed that Catholics and Protestants were basically of the same faith.

---

Queen Elizabeth the first helped defeat the Spanish Armada. She was the reason the British won, but the Armada was difficult to attack because it sailed in a 'crescent' shape. While the Armada tried to get in touch with the Spanish army, the English ships (Queen Elizabeth was in charge of the English ships) attacked fiercely. However, an important reason why the English were able to defeat the Armada was that the wind blew the Spanish ships northwar. And Queen Elizabeth the first,

When Elizabeth was a child, she was given her first horse, the horse was a Shetland pony named Peggy when she was very young at the age of 4, which she was riding the horse at the age of 6. By age 18, she was an accomplished rider, she loved riding and has continued to ride into her nineties.

---

Elizabeth the first died on 24 March 1603 at the age of 69 after being queen for 45 years. Elizabeth the first died in Richmond Palace. when the maid's founder her, she was reported to have a full inch of makeup on her face.

Elizabeth the first was fond of music and played the lute. She felt that dancing was a great form of physical exercise so she can lose a couple of pounds cause she was kind of fat. She also employed musicians to play for her while she danced in her dance room. During her reign, she employed over seventy musicians from all over the world.

---

Elizabeth's early years were not very special. She was the daughter of the Tudor king Henry VIII and his second wife, Anne Boleyn. Before Elizabeth reached her third birthday, her father had her mother were beheaded on charges of adultery and treason. Queen Elizabeth the first had a most extraordinary education. She studied for years with tutors and learned to speak six languages fluently as well as grammar, theology, history, rhetoric, logic, philosophy, math, logic, literature and geometry. She also was one of the smartest girls in the county. Also her zodiac sign was a Virgo.

Queen Elizabeth the first was Queen of England and Ireland from 17 November 1558 until she died in 1603. Sometimes called the Virgin Queen Elizabeth was the last of the five monarchs of the House of Tudor. During the queen's reign, she established Protestantism in England; defeated the Spanish Armada in 1588; maintained peace inside her country; and created that was previously divided into an environment where the music, art, dance, and etc flourished.